MY TRAVELS

This little book is for your trip,
Whether you go by train or ship;
Write down your thrills and fun each day,
Write down the different games you play,
Keep a record of friends you make,
Their names and home addresses take,
Impressions of new places seen,
Cathedrals, castles, vistas green.
In after years with pride you'll look
At treasures in this Travel Book.

ACCOMMODATIONS

Accommodations should be secured as near the middle of a car as possible, as there will be less vibration and less noise.

MOST CONVENIENT WAY TO CARRY MONEY

Travelers checks or letters of credit afford the easiest way in which to carry money.

TRAINS

Long distance trains are called "Limited", carrying only a certain number of passengers, and frequently charge an extra fare. The next best trains are called "Express". Pullman sleeping or parlor cars are carried on all first class trains. The Limited trains have drawing-room, dining, buffet, parlor, observation and sleeping cars, and many of the best carry stenographers, ladies' maid, barbers and manicurists. The observation car is generally arranged with back platform open, so that views can be had from the rear of train.

ARTICLES LOST IN TRAIN

When articles are lost in trains, or left in waiting rooms at station, owners should report this at once to the Conductor or the Station Agent where they leave the train.

TRAVELERS' AID

Representatives of National Travelers' Aid Society are at most of the larger stations for the purpose of relief of distress and assistance to the unprotected, especially women. Inquire at the station for the representative of this society.

BAGGAGE

Weight—One hundred and fifty pounds are carried free for each whole ticket presented, and seventy-five pounds on each half ticket. If the ticket holder has more than one hundred and fifty pounds of baggage, excess weight is charged per hundred pounds on the basis of 16-2/3 percent of the railroad fare.

Dimensions—Railroads in the United States will not check a piece of baggage with a greater lineal dimension than 72". In Canada, an additional charge is made for baggage with a lineal dimension greater than 42".

Storage—Inbound or outbound baggage is stored free of charge, 24 hours after arrival. For the second 24 hours, there is a charge of 25c, and for each succeeding day, a 10c charge.

Miscellaneous—Bicycles, baby carriages, dogs and guns may be checked as baggage.

TRAVELLING IN CANADA

PASSPORTS

British subjects entering Canada do not require passports, but all foreigners must have proper passports with British Consular visaes, except citizens of the United States entering Canada from that country or going from Canada into the United States.

MONEY

British and United States money is accepted at the current rate of exchange.

IMMIGRATION LAWS

Before entering Canada, passengers must submit to examination by Canadian Immigration Officers as to object of their visit, length of visit, financial condition, etc., such examination usually taking place near the border.

CUSTOMS

Only personal belongings of the traveler are admitted free of duty. Dutiable merchandise, such as tobacco, cigars, etc., should be declared, otherwise they are subject to confiscation. Transient visitors may bring in without duty, guns, cameras, fishing tackle, by depositing the amount of duty on such articles, which will be returned upon leaving Canada if departure is within six months.

ENTERING CANADA BY AUTOMOBILE

Report to the Customs officials at the point of entry and secure a permit for entering with an automobile. The penalty for neglecting to do this makes one liable to confiscation of his automobile. All dutiable merchandise should be declared at once. The same customs regulations are likewise effective upon re-entering the United States. There is a sixty-day limit for tourists with automobile; therefore, those wishing to spend more time in Canada must obtain an extension permit from the Customs officials.

TRAVELLING IN CUBA

CUSTOMS

Visitors may take all necessary personal belongings into Cuba. Clothing should show normal wear, to eliminate the declaration of these articles to Customs officials.

AUTOMOBILES

Automobile hire in Cuba is very reasonable; therefore, it is not advisable to take one's own car, as bonds must be furnished before the automobile may be landed.

RE-ENTERING THE UNITED STATES

Americans returning to the United States from Cuba may bring in free of duty, articles of personal use to the value of $100.00.

POPULATION

The population of Havana taken in 1930 was 584,893.

BERMUDA

CUSTOMS

Customs regulations for Bermuda are practically the same as in Cuba. The island is owned by Great Britain. It is not necessary to have a passport. However, it is advisable to obtain one, as a means of identification.

POPULATION

The population of Bermuda is about 27,789, of which about 11,353 are White.

HAWAII

The Hawaiian Islands consist of twenty islands, nine of which are inhabited. The population is about 368,336 of which about 150,000 are Japanese.

CUSTOMS

No duty is charged or customs inspection made on passengers' luggage between two American ports such as Honolulu and San Francisco, but regular procedure prevails when entering Hawaii from a foreign country, and Doctor's inspection is made by United State quarantine service. There are certain kinds of plants and fruits that cannot be taken away from the island.

PASSPORTS

Passports from Hawaii to foreign countries may be obtained from United States Officers there.

INTERESTING FACTS

Honolulu is the capital of Hawaii, although the traveler lands at Hilo, within the horns of a crescent bay. The Island of Maui is easily reached from Honolulu, and is famous for its beauty and for a remarkable trip to the summit of the great extinct volcano of Haleakala. This volcano rises out of the sea to a height of 10,000 feet, and its inner crater is the largest in the world.

Kauai, known as the Garden Island, is noted for its plantations of tasseled sugar-cane and pineapples and rice fields. The charm of the Hawaiian Islands is unique. Here, there is a combination of South Sea glamour and American livelihood, with a vivid dash of the Orient.

THE PANAMA CANAL

The Panama Canal was built across the Isthmus of Panama at its narrowest part but one. The saddle through which it crosses the continental divide was originally 312 feet above sea level. The Canal has a length of 44.04 nautical miles or 50.72 statute miles from deep water in the Atlantic to deep water in the Pacific. The Canal extends at sea level from its starting point in Limon Bay to Gatun, 6-2/3 miles. At Gatun the sea level section ends in a flight of three pairs of locks, forming the steps to Gatun Lake, with its normal elevation 85 feet above the sea.

The Canal proceeds up the valley of the Chagres 23¾ miles to Gamboa, and in this section relatively little excavation was required. At Gamboa begins the real drive through the divide, the famous Gaillard (formerly known as Culebra) Cut. It is 8 miles long, 300 feet wide at bottom, and extends to Pedro Miguel lock and dam on the Pacific slope of the divide. Here one lock lowers the ship to Miraflores Lake, a small body about a mile long, with its surface 54 feet above the sea . At the south end of this lake are Miraflores locks, which, in two steps, lower the ship to the Pacific. A sea level channel 8 miles long runs past Balboa and out into the Pacific.

The minimum depth of the channel is 42 feet, and in parts of Gatun Lake it is about 85 feet deep. The lock chambers have a clear width of 110 feet and length of 1,000 feet, giving ample handling room for the largest ship yet built. Gatun dam, by which Gatun Lake was formed is a big, gently sloping mound, built by pumping sand and clay into the space between two ridges of rock and earth. It is 1½ miles long and ½ mile wide at its base. Its crest is 105 feet above sea level and the width of the dam at the top is 100 feet.

The Canal Zone is the strip of land extending five miles on either side of the axis of the Canal, but not including the cities of Panama and Colon, which remain within the Republic of Panama. It has an area of 553.9 square miles, including land and water. It was granted to the United States by the treaty made with Panama, February 26, 1904. The United States paid $10,000,000 for the Zone, and makes an annual payment in addition of $250,000.

TIME DIFFERENCES IN THE UNITED STATES

Between the eastern and western portions of the United States there is a difference in the local clock time of three hours which is approximately the time required by the sun to make its daily swing from the Atlantic to the Pacific. As a matter of general convenience Standard Time was established which divided the country into four sections each with an hour's time

Weather Cool

First day that we took the regular morning shuttle leaving town at 6:25. Had a fine walk through the woods. Was real cold and we shivered around cottage without any fire. Had to wear coats. Cleaned up the Sergeants lounge done before breakfast. Was surprised to hear how they wake the boys. Reveille is sounded and then they play some gay Norwegian dance tunes on a victrola. The loud speakers carry it all over the camp. Helped some with breakfast and Allie helped and know what is to be done in the sergeants lounge each day. Went home on 1:30 bus. Washed some clothes and put together things in preparation for going to Vesle Skaugum Fri. John, a queer guy wearing dark [illegible] showed us around Pine Dale & dance hall.

Weather Beautiful day - Cool

Not a cloud in the sky all day - a little windy but sun was beautiful. Cool all day though. Had little more work as we had to dry and put all the dishes away before we were through in the kitchen. Had visitors in the officers mess so they had a couple extra tables - some Canadian flyers. Ina and Lavenne were to have a plane ride at 1 P.M. After we got home I sunned myself in June's yard. She served a good cool drink and cookies & cake Ruth Mrs. Hayston & me. Agnes washed her hair. Had our supper rather late and [illegible] tried to read in bed to keep warm but went to sleep more than reading. [illegible] Was cool with 2 blankets.

Was cool in the cottage so made our breakfast and ate it out doors in the sun. Rode in the old box car again on top of the fruit and vegetables. They call it the "big [illegible]" which is a good name for it. Chris told us we all didn't need to come in the morning as so few would be there. Lavenne & [illegible] went there and Agnes & I in the P.M. Afterwards and I sat out by the pool for a while and talked with a fellow who has lived in Canada since 1929 [illegible] but joined the Norwegian forces. Most of the fellows are married - most of them in Norway [illegible] for many of them to stay faithful for such a long time. I took him for a ride around to see chickens etc. Found out the one of the cooks Strandly is going to Toronto to speak about whaling the [illegible] him. Had a nice visit with him. At time of invasion he was on a whaling boat where he spent the winters working 3 mos. - gone 6 mos of yr. & home after it. Made good money he said. He's married, had built his own home and owned a store in southern Norway. Were due in Norway 10 days after invasion so went to Capetown. Spent several months in Africa. He said they make 30,000 barrels of whale oil in one season. Have factory and all right on boat. Some whales 90 ft long. It surely sounded interesting.

Went to work early. It was real cool but nice and clear. Monday is inspection day so Chris reminded us to clean extra well. There are always plenty reminders as everyone does an extra good job on Monday. Aasbö seemed to be more than usually excited and bawled out White [illegible] Ferguson in the kitchen. He gets so excited and seems to make more fuss than any of the cooks.

When we walked through the park the sun had just come up and steam just like smoke was coming off the lake looked like the great Smokies. Seemed to come up some places in little ribbons.

Slept a little after we got home and then washed my hair. Dried it out at June's lying in the sun. Apples ate there in the evening. We stayed over at June's with the children while she and Keith went to the show. Was real cool.

Had breakfast out doors again. Sat over at June's table this time. Breezy was cool so she brought a blanket and put around our knees. Sunned ourselves, got ready and left for town about 11. Had to go in the box car again so got plenty of dust. The kitchen was so hot so I finally took my dress off. Wrote to M.A. finally too. Had coffee in the sergeants' mess. Talked with Stanley again. He talked more about his family - said he had two children 13 and 10. He has heard about them through some of the boys who have come over recently. He goes to Toronto tomorrow. Wish he would stay here. Aslaug, Lars, Hans & another cook had an argument about preachers and missionaries in the kitchen. When we were ready to leave Aasboe came and put Aslaug out and he was really mad.

I got inspiration to make a cake so collected things from June and Agnes made a wood fire and was very cozy. June, Ruth and the cook were there while I was baking it. Had good T bone steak for supper. Cake was all ready about 8:30 and Agnes went over and invited June & Ruth to come over to have some. Played [illegible] rummy & was fun. They stayed until 12:30. Went to [illegible] in P.M. Was rather cool and looked rainy. Had quite an exciting time just before dinner. One of the cooks had put soda instead of salt on the potatoes and spoiled them. Same was done one day with the beans. Quite a scene and Nyland was called in too. He swore at them all and said he'd fire the whole bunch if it happened again. Plenty of cursing going on. [illegible] was mad as a wet hen and made lots of fuss. Came in on 7:15. [illegible] & us were going to the show but couldn't get in by first one so we went to Vincent's and had blueberry pie-a-la-mode and returned again. Stood in line for almost half hour and saw [illegible] worth it. Comedy in technicolor. Up in Arms. Danny Kaye was new comedian in it. Walked the long way home and got here about 12. Were lucky to get out to the camp before it rained. Started as soon as we got there. All day of work this time from 6:30 to one. [illegible] seems to be in charge of music around the camp. We watched them dance for a while. One soldier who works in the depot asked us to dance but we didn't want to. About then went over to see what we should do. They served potato salad, "dogs" (weiners) mustard, Hard rolls and cakes set up in lounge on coffee table. Had their refreshments about 11. Aslaug & Marcy got off at 6:15. Aslaug met us up town and we went to visit Eldrid Strom, and Margaret Magnesen. They both belong to the Kvinde Corps and are very nice girls. Looked at their snap shots and scrapbooks. They had a nice place to live. Karol Jorfeld came over too. Margaret cooked coffee and we had sandwiches & rolls. Fun to hear these girls talk about different ones & things. Eldrid was born in Trondheim and came here when she was 5. Margaret is from Hamilton, Canada and has never been in Norway. We stayed until almost 11 - then went the long way round with Aslaug & not too much time to sleep.

EVENTS AND PLACES VISITED

Date Wednesday August 16.

Weather Thundershowers early. Cooler.

Had our last morning at Wash. Lounge was in a terrible mess as they had been eating and drinking up there last night. Chris helped and we were through quite early. As long as we were sitting by the pool and our little light haired driver came along in a jeep so we begged
a ride and went around
to the garage with him.
We took the curves fast
and it was fun.
Had my hair done
in preparation for leaving.
